

Q394. Are there tools available that will generate an e-GGRT XML file out of the values in our database?

Q394. Are there tools available that will generate an e-GGRT XML file out of the values in our database?

A394. There are commercial products available for producing XML files. However, the EPA is not providing support for these products. You should consult your database provider to determine whether a particular product is applicable. Some products have the capability to export data and create XML files. However, not all products will generate XML files that are compatible with the GHGRP XML schema. For example, you cannot use MS Access or MS Excel to create your XML files as the built-in function that generates XML files creates XML files that do not comply with the GHGRP XML schema.

Updated on Oct 28, 2019 15:37